DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1,3,4,6,7,12, 14-16, 18, 20 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Keller (U.S. Patent No. 7,169,153).

Keller discloses a receiving component having a longitudinal axis and defining a cavity, a modular tip including a mating component (36 and 33), a locking mechanism (30) at the receiving component (located at the end of a handle (32) that extends through the cavity that is slideably moveable to and from a locked position while the locking mechanism engages at least two outer surfaces (33) of the mating component, and the mating component is configured to extend into the cavity in a direction transverse to the longitudinal axis, and configured to be coupled to the receiving component to form a coupling such that the coupling without the engagement of the locking mechanism to the mating component can prevent relative movement in a rigid manner between the mating component and the receiving component when a force is applied to the coupling in a direction substantially parallel to the longitudinal axis. The mating component has at least three planar surfaces. Also, the receiving component includes a recess and an opening that form a connecting member in the receiving component, where the connecting member is configured to cooperatively engage a recess in the mating component (see Figure 1 below).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 8, 9 and 21 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim 26 is allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 16 and 22 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
